TUCK'S POST CARD

CARTE POSTALE.

By Appointment

The Piazza San Marco, with Cathedral. The Piazza San Marco is celebrated the world over for the pigeons who make their homes in the neighbourhood, and daily at two o'clock descend into the Piazza to be fed at the public expense. There are countless numbers of them, and all visitors to Venice remember "the pigeons of St. Mark's." The Cathedral Church of St. Mark's is a beautiful edifice, and in no other building, perhaps in the whole world, has there been lavished such costly material as in the composition of this church, where wondrous arches, mosaics, statues, columns and domes are all blended together.
